

12 Days of Stockings!

Want to win a holiday stocking full of goodies? Simply answer the fraud-awareness questions below for your chance to take one home!

1. You receive an email claiming you've won a "Holiday Shopping Spree" but must pay a small fee to claim the prize. What should you do?

- A. Pay the fee right away before the offer expires
- B. Click the link to learn more
- C. Delete the email – this is a common scam tactic

2. A charity calls asking for a donation and pressures you to give immediately over the phone. What's the safest action?

- A. Ask for their website and verify the charity before donating
- B. Provide your card number to avoid sounding rude
- C. Donate the minimum amount just in case

3. You see an online ad for a must-have holiday gift at a price far below anything you've seen. What do you do?

- A. Buy it right away before it sells out
- B. Check reviews and verify the seller's legitimacy and website
- C. Share the deal with friends and family

4. A text message says your package is being held due to unpaid shipping fees and asks you to enter your card information. What's the safest action?

- A. Enter your card details to release the package
- B. Contact the retailer or courier directly using verified contact information
- C. Call the number in the text to resolve the issue

5. You receive a call claiming to be from a government agency warning you of "holiday penalties" unless you pay immediately. What should you do?

- A. Pay right away to avoid legal trouble
- B. Provide your Social Security number so they can "verify your file"
- C. Hang up – government agencies do not demand immediate payments by phone

6. When shopping on a new website during the holidays, what is the safest practice?

- A. Use public Wi-Fi to complete the purchase quickly
- B. Look for "https:///" and a secure lock symbol before entering payment details
- C. Provide extra personal information to speed up checkout
